Detailed Syllabus Information

Course Subtitle	Introduction to Japanese Law
Language of the Course	English
Type of Class	Lecture Subject
Course Objective	Japanese law presents many peculiarities. For some, it is a modern legal system and a leading democracy where the law is effectively applied under the rule of law. For others, it is a complex and impenetrable legal system. However, despite this divergence in point of view, all agree that Japanese law is a fascinating field of study. This course's main objective is to provide students with basic knowledge of Japanese law and the Japanese legal system. It discusses the current status of Japanese law, its basic structure, sources of law, actors of law, court organization, and dispute resolution.
Learning Goals	This class aims to give students a general overview of the general features and structure of the Japanese legal system. Upon completing this course, students are expected to become more familiar with the peculiarities of Japanese law and the way it operates. Especially students will be expected: 1. To understand the general structure of Japanese law and gain basic knowledge about Japanese law, legal notions, and fundamental institutions 2. To explain different aspects of the Japanese legal system 3. To discuss various issues relating to the Japanese legal system and have their personal opinion about it.
Requirement / Prerequisite	There are no requisites for this course except interest and willing to learn. However, good English language skills are necessary to be able to follow the lectures and take part in the discussions.
